CHIP KELLY | HEAD COACH

Chip Kelly is in his third season in Philadelphia after being named head coach of the Eagles on January 16, 2013. Kelly joined the Eagles after a successful four-year reign manning the sidelines at the University of Oregon.

In his first two NFL seasons, Kelly has produced a pair of 10-win seasons and led the Eagles to an NFC East division title in 2013, his first in professional football. He became just the 2nd head coach in league history to win a division title in his first season in the NFL.

From 2013-14, Kelly and the Eagles have generated an offense that ranks 2nd in the league in total net yards (407.0 per game), points per game (28.6) and rushing yards per game (142.5). In addition, the Eagles lead the league in total plays of 20+ yards and passing plays of 20+ yards.

The Eagles offense also set a plethora of franchise records in Kelly's first two seasons. In 2013, the Eagles scored a team-record 442 points, only to shatter that with 474 points in 2014. In 2013, the Eagles set the record for total net yards (2013) in a season. Individually, RB LeSean McCoy set the franchise record for rushing yards and scrimmage yards in a season in 2013, while QB Nick Foles had the 3rd best QB rating in NFL history in 2013. In 2014, QB Mark Sanchez set a team record with a 64.1 completion percentage.

In 2013, the Eagles set an NFL record with 99 plays of 20+ yards and became the first team since the 1991 Buffalo Bills to lead the league in rushing while ranking last in time of possession.

His four-year tenure at Oregon produced a 46-7 (.868) overall record and transformed the university into one of the nation's premiere football destinations.

Amidst Kelly's meteoric rise, he became the first coach in Oregon's history to guide the program to three undisputed conference championships from 2009-11. Additionally, the Ducks made an appearance in a BCS Bowl game in each of Kelly's four seasons as head coach. In just Kelly's second season, Oregon earned a trip to the BCS National Championship game in 2010.

In his four seasons at Oregon, the Ducks scored a whopping 44.7 points per game. They also led the FBS in big plays, including 25-yard passing plays (220) and 25-yard rushes (110).

His 2012 Ducks squad finished 12-1 and ranked fourth in total offense accumulating nearly 7,000 yards while scoring an average of 49.6 points per game. They rushed for 315.2 yards per game while ranking fifth, averaging 537.4 total yards.

Known as a football junkie, Kelly has a matter-of-fact leadership style in addition to his mastery of the spread offense. Following Oregon's run at a potential national title in 2010, Kelly's leadership was recognized with a multitude of Coach of the Year awards from outlets such as Associated Press, Sporting News, The Walter Camp Football Foundation and other postseason titles including the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year, AFCA Coach of the Year and Pac-10 Coach of the Year.

Prior to taking over as Oregon's head coach, Kelly spent two seasons as the team's offensive coordinator. In his first season leading the team's offense, the Ducks were forced into playing four different starting quarterbacks during the final four games of 2007. Kelly's plug-and-play style was cemented when the team had an impressive 56-21 Sun Bowl victory over South Florida.

His offenses at his alma mater averaged more than 400 yards of total offense in seven of his eight seasons and more than 30 points per game in his final four years. As a result, three Wildcats received first-team All-America acclaim in each of his last two seasons in the Granite State. In 2006, junior QB Ricky Santos earned the Walter Payton Award as the most outstanding player in FCS.

Ironically, Kelly got his first taste of coaching on the defensive side of the ball with Columbia in 1990. And in 1993, he was named the defensive coordinator at Johns Hopkins.

A product of the University of New Hampshire, Kelly earned a bachelor's degree in physical education. He played quarterback and defensive back for legendary coach Bill Bowes at UNH from 1981-84.

The third of four boys, Kelly attended Manchester (NH) Central High School and starred in football and track. Kelly, whose first love was hockey, played in the Manchester Regional Youth Hockey Association, and also made time for the local CYO basketball team.

JEFFREY LURIE | CHAIRMAN AND CEO

Jeffrey Lurie, the dynamic owner and chairman of the Philadelphia Eagles, is defined by his accomplishments both on and off the field – accomplishments which when taken together reveal how hard he has worked for excellence.

Taking over a football franchise in 1994 that made the playoffs just 14 times in a 62-year span (23 percent), the Eagles have been a perennial contender under Lurie, earning playoff berths in 12 of his 20 seasons as owner (60 percent).

The Eagles have a greater overall winning percentage and appeared in more playoff games (23) and won more (11) than all of the other ownership groups combined.

Off the field, his stewardship of Screen Pass Pictures has garnered two Academy Awards since 2010. And, under his guidance, the Eagles have become leaders with their charitable and environmental efforts.

Along the way, Lurie has earned the respect of NFL's top hierarchy as he serves on the NFL's Finance Committee, Broadcast Committee, Stadium Committee, International Committee and the Super Bowl Advisory Committee.

In 2013, Lurie hired renowned University of Oregon Head Coach Chip Kelly to be the 21st head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles. Coach Kelly replaced Andy Reid, the all-time winningest coach in franchise history, whom Lurie hired in 1999.

In his first two NFL seasons, Kelly produced a pair of 10-win seasons and led the Eagles to an NFC East division title in 2013, his first season in professional football. The Eagles offense also set a plethora of franchise records in Kelly's first two seasons, including total points, touchdowns, passing yards, gross passing yards, total net yards, plays of 20+ yards, completions, first downs and fewest turnovers.

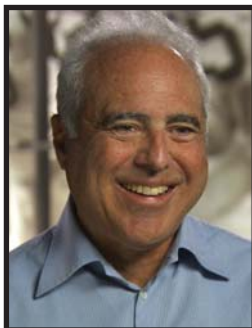

Also in 2013, Screen Pass Pictures earned its second Academy Award for "Inocente," in the category of Best Documentary Short. The first Oscar came in 2010 for "Inside Job" which earned the Academy Award for Best Documentary Feature.

One of Lurie's charitable endeavors resulted in the creation of Eagles Youth Partnership (EYP), the team's nonprofit, 501(c)(3) charitable wing. Since its inception in 1995, EYP has developed into one of the most innovative nonprofit organizations in Philadelphia, winning awards internationally for its philanthropy.

The Eagles, based on the work of EYP, the Tackling Breast Cancer and Go Green campaigns, earned the coveted 2011 Sport Team of the Year Award by Beyond Sport, a global organization that promotes, develops and funds the use of sport to create positive social change across the world.

The Philadelphia Business Journal honored the Eagles as one of Philadelphia's top charitable corporations in 2010. "That giving attitude made them a winner in every category of the Corporate Philanthropy Awards," cited the publication in its announcement.

The Go Green program serves to better the environment by creating and sustaining programs that improve the quality of life in the Philadelphia region, green the environment and reduce the team's impact on the planet. The Eagles received the 2008 Ongoing Commitment Award from the Environmental Media Association for their efforts.

"Beau's an intriguing guy. For how big he is, he has very, very good feet, he's quick, he's very strong, he has a lot of raw ability that you like to see in a nose tackle."

- Eagles Center Jason Kelce

A seventh-round pick of the Eagles from Wisconsin in 2014, Beau Allen contributed immediately during his rookie campaign as a member of the team's defensive line rotation. Allen, who never missed a game in college, finished his Badger career with 94 tackles and eight sacks en route to becoming a two-time All-Big Ten honorable mention selection (2012-13).

BIRDSEED

- Claims his football career was most influenced by his position coach at Wisconsin, Charlie Partridge, now the head coach at Florida Atlantic. "I thought he was a great coach and I had a lot of respect for him and the way he went about his business. I think he taught us the right way. Coach Azzinaro reminds me a lot of him."
- Underrated attribute needed to be a successful nose tackle: "I think you have to be smart to be a nose guard, especially in this scheme. You can really help yourself by knowing pre-snap what's going on and being an aware football player. When people think of nose guards, they just think of some big, dumb, brawny guy taking up space, but they are doing a lot more than what people actually know."

After spending the first eight years of his pro career in Dallas, Austin played in Cleveland in 2014 and signed a one-year contract with the Eagles during the 2015 offseason. Originally signed as an undrafted free agent by the Cowboys in 2006, Austin was used primarily as a kick returner and special teams player until he cracked the offensive lineup full time in 2009. He broke out in 2009 when he started nine games and recorded career highs with 81 catches for 1,320 yards and 11 TDs. - Returned to the Pro Bowl in 2010 after hauling in 69 catches for 1,041 yards (15.1 avg.) and seven TDs. His 1,000-plus yards in 2010 made Austin just the 10th undrafted free agent in NFL history to record two 1,000-yard seasons at that time

- After recording just five catches during the first four games of the 2009 season, broke out with 10 catches for a career-high 250 yards and two scores at KC (10/11/09). His 250 yards at KC mark the highest-single game receiving total in Cowboys history

RENAISSANCE MAN

Faith, family, football. Those are the three things most important to Bair. In addition to being a devoted Mormon, a father of three daughters and a professional football player, Bair has become quite the renaissance man. The St. Anthony, Idaho native grew up on a 200-acre farm, where he now owns 50 of those acres. He is also interested in real estate and owns multiple rental properties, some of which he made improvements to himself. Bair also owns a training facility and a used car dealership in Idaho. He has even taught classes at his local church in New Jersey. Defensive line coach Jerry Azzinaro once said about Bair: "I would guess he was a great man when he was 9 years old."

"Allen has great versatility and his ability to play both outside and inside on the offensive line makes him so valuable to what we do. He's been in this league for a number of years and we know we can count on him to step up and fill in whenever he is called upon."

- Eagles Head Coach Chip Kelly

A versatile offensive lineman with seven years of NFL experience, Allen Barbre (pronounced BAR-ber) joined the Eagles in 2013 and provides quality depth on the team's offensive line. Barbre, who was injured in the team's 2014 opener vs. Jacksonville, spent the majority of last season on Injured Reserve with an ankle injury. Prior to arriving in Philadelphia, Barbre split time between Green Bay (2007-09), Miami (2010) and Seattle (2010-12). A former fourth-round draft pick of the Packers in 2007, Barbre was a four-year starter at Missouri Southern State. Barbre and the Eagles agreed on a three-year contract extension during the 2014 offseason that will keep him in Philadelphia through 2017.

BIRDSEED

- Barbre has rarely handled the football during his career, but he fondly remembers the last time he found the end zone. As a junior in 2005 at Missouri Southern, Barbre scored a touchdown on a 4-yard rush in the first quarter of a win vs. Truman State. Although his touchdown was the first of five on the day for the Lions, Barbre's score meant much more than the rest. On the Tuesday prior to the game, Missouri Southern Head Coach John Ware passed away from a heart attack. Ware, who played offensive line for Drake University, had spent 19 years coaching at Truman before taking the head coaching job at Missouri Southern in 2004. "As a tribute to Coach Ware, we lined up in a formation made up only of offensive lineman," recalls Barbre. "I lined up as quarterback, I took the snap from the shotgun and ran it in. It was pretty neat."

"There was no better value for us to open today, and we took Matt. He's the all-time leading passer in USC history. He's one of the great all-time quarterbacks to play in the Pac-12. He has all the intangibles you're looking for."

-Eagles Head Coach Chip Kelly during 2013 NFL Draft

The all-time leading passer in Pac-12 Conference and USC history, Matt Barkley was drafted in the fourth round in 2013. A four-year starter for the Trojans, he finished his career with over 12,000 passing yards and became the only player in conference history to throw for over 100 touchdowns (116) in a career. Barkley was also a four-year starter in high school at Mater Dei High School, becoming the first freshman QB to start since Todd Marinovich in 1985.

BIRDSEED

- Along with many NFL QBs, Barkley has worked with former USC and MLB pitcher, Tom House, with his throwing mechanics and shoulder warm up exercises. Said Barkley, "One of his best lessons is warming up to throw instead of throwing to warm up." House, a coach at USC, caught Hank Aaron's 715th home run as he was standing in the Braves bullpen
- His father, Les, was the captain of the USC water polo squad as he played the grueling sport for four years (1976-79) and earned second-team All-American honors as a senior. His younger brother, Sam, was a hurdler on USC's track team, while his cousin, Robbie Boyer, played football at USC and recorded his only reception on a pass from Barkley in the season finale in 2011

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- As the Eagles third QB, saw action in three games: vs. Dal. (10/20) in place of an injured Nick Foles, vs. NYG (10/27) in place of an injured Michael Vick, and in an Eagles rout at Oak. (11/4) after Foles departed with an NFL-record seven TD passes. In all, Barkley completed 61% of his passes for 300 yards

PERSONAL

- He and his wife, Brittany, first met in kindergarten and began dating at the age of 16. The couple welcomed their first son, John, during the 2015 offseason. They also have a teacup Maltese poodle named Tank
- Parents are Les and Beverly Barkley. Has a younger brother, Sam, and a younger sister, Lainy, who are twins
- Grew up playing football, baseball, basketball, swimming, soccer and water polo, but decided to focus all of his efforts on football once he began high school
- Attended Mater Dei High School in Santa Ana, CA, where he finished his high school career as the all-time passing yardage leader in Orange County, surpassing Todd Marinovich

"Kenjon is just a hard worker. He wants to know the offense inside and out. He wants to know why the receivers are blocking a certain way, he wants to know everything there is to know about the offensive line and their calls...He's a very intelligent player. Football IQ is very high."

- Eagles WR Josh Huff

A sixth-round draft selection of Carolina in the 2013 NFL Draft, Kenjon Barner (pronounced Ken-Yon) was originally acquired by the Eagles from the Panthers on Aug. 19, 2014, in exchange for a conditional seventh-round draft pick in 2015. Waived-injured following the 2014 training camp, the Eagles signed Barner to their practice squad on Nov. 4, 2014. A collegiate standout under Chip Kelly at the University of Oregon, Barner appeared in 49 games with 20 starts for the Ducks and finished his collegiate career ranked second in school history with 3,623 rushing yards and tied for second with 41 rushing touchdowns.

BIRDSEED

- As a senior in 2012, Barner only needed to take two electives during the fall semester to finish his degree in criminology and settled on studying yoga and ballet. Barner was interested in the effects that the two activities could have on his on-the-field performance and reaped immediate benefits of the added flexibility and balance from partaking in those classes. "I'm more in tune with the motion of my body, with the movement of it," Barner told The Oregonian in 2012. "You can definitely, definitely benefit from it."

2013 HIGHLIGHTS (W/ CAROLINA)

- Appeared in eight games with the Panthers as a rookie, rushing six times for seven yards while adding two receptions for seven yards

RUSHING INTO THE RECORD BOOKS

As a senior in 2012, Barner carried the load for a potent Oregon rushing attack and burst to the top of the school's single-game rushing leaderboard after rushing for a school-record 321 yards and five touchdowns on 38 carries in a 62-51 Ducks victory over the 18th-ranked USC Trojans. Barner broke the previous record of 288 set by his former teammate and friend LaMichael James in 2011, while James watched from the Oregon sideline.

Said James, "I told him before the game, 'Just take what they give you.' And they gave him a lot. Kenjon's a phenomenal player. I think he proved that to everyone. He's one of the best players in the country -- I think he's the best player. I think he deserves the Heisman."

If you had one word best fit to depict Connor Barwin the football player and Barwin the man, that word would be versatile. On the field, he is best described by his coaches as the "jack of all trades," willing and able to rush the passer, set the edge on run plays or drop into pass coverage. Off the field, Barwin's foundation, Make The World Better (MTWB), exemplifies his upbringing as the son of a city manager and the civic pride he displays since growing up in Detroit, MI. A former tight end and basketball player at the University of Cincinnati, he was a 2nd round pick of the Texans in 2009 and signed with Philadelphia as a free agent in 2013. He earned his first Pro Bowl bid in 2014 as well as a 2nd-team All-Pro berth

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Led NFC with career-high 14.5 sacks in 2014 en route to first Pro Bowl berth. Also earned 2nd-team All-Pro honors. His Pro Bowl selection was the first by an Eagles LB since 2005 (Jeremiah Trotter)
- Earned NFC Defensive Player of the Month honors in November 2014 with 6.5 sacks and 24 tackles
- Set Texans single-game record with four sacks at Jax. (11/27/11)
- Named AFC Defensive Player of the Month in November 2011 after recording 6.5 sacks in 3 games

BIRDSEED

- Barwin makes it no secret he fully integrates himself into the city he lives. "You get out of a city what you put into a city," he explained. "It's that simple. Why not take advantage of everything a city has to offer? It just makes sense to me ... My dad was a city manager, so I gained an appreciation for cities from him. He took me around different cities and pointed out all the differences and great places to go. I really got that from him and just try to embrace wherever I am."
- Serves as a spokesman and avid user of Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority (SEPTA). "I love public transportation and I love using it," said Barwin. "It's good for the city and it's great for the environment" ... When not taking public transportation, Barwin drives a Tesla, an electric-powered car, or rides his bicycle

- After being born completely deaf, Barwin underwent multiple surgeries until he was 12 years old to have his hearing restored
- Enjoys an interactive relationship as a spokesman for NRG Energy, a Fortune 500 power generation and retail electricity business. Barwin: "They are a very transformative company and I really like what they are doing to help our environment" ... In 2014 and 2015, he embarked on a multi-day trip to Haiti to help NRG install solar panels on top of an orphanage to give them reliable power
- Honored by the Philadelphia Mural Arts Program in 2015 at their annual Wall Ball

"He's a war-daddy, man. When I think special teams, I think Bryan Braman. He's all out on every play."

- Eagles Punter Donnie Jones

After taking an unconventional route to the NFL and ultimately signing with the Houston Texans as a rookie free agent in 2011, Bryan Braman has emerged as a proven force on special teams over the course of his career. Braman originally signed a two-year deal with the Eagles prior to the 2014 season and signed a one-year extension in the 2015 offseason that will keep him in Philadelphia through 2016. In his first season in Philadelphia, Braman served as a "core-four" special teams player, providing leadership on a unit that accounted for seven touchdowns in 2014.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Has recorded 39 special teams tackles in 62 career games
- Was named a Pro Bowl alternate and to USA Today's All-Joe Team in 2012 after leading the Texans with 16 special teams tackles and notching a franchise-best two blocked punts
- Blocked a Pat McAfee punt in the second quarter vs. Ind. (12/16/12) and ran it back 8 yards for his first-career touchdown

2014 HIGHLIGHTS

- Blocked a Tim Masthay punt in the fourth quarter at GB (11/16). The punt was recovered by S Malcolm Jenkins on the Green Bay 5-yard line

BIRDSEED

- Prior to landing his first NFL job as a rookie free agent with the Houston Texans in 2011, Bryan Braman thought his football career was over. "After I got kicked out of Idaho, I was making concrete railroad ties for a year, just back-breaking work. It was tough." Braman went to West Texas A&M in 2009 after a two-year stint at Long Beach City College. He originally went to Idaho, where he was a red-shirt freshman in 2006. "The bottom line is I was just immature and got caught up in bad things. It was an eye-opening experience for me and really forced me to grow up. I think going through that ultimately made me a better person. I'm so much more appreciative of everything I have now."
- Claims to get his size from his late grandfather, Ivan Cecil Braman, a World War II veteran who was a whopping 7-foot-4 and 360 pounds
- As a senior prank at West Texas A&M, teammates cut off Braman's dreadlocks at his defensive line coach's house. Still having an attachment to them, he currently has them stored in a Ziploc bag in his garage

Lawrence split time with New Orleans and San Diego during a five-year NFL career, hauling in 44 catches for 804 yards and seven TDs. - Eagles Safety Malcolm Jenkins

A long and athletic corner, Nolan Carroll signed a two-year deal with the Eagles during the 2014 off-season. A former fifth-round draft choice of Miami in 2010, Carroll emerged as a starter for the Dolphins in 2012 and set career highs in interceptions (three), passes defended (11) and sacks (two) in 2013. Carroll was also a valuable contributor to the Dolphins special teams units. A native of Green Cove Springs, FL, he was a four-year letterman and team captain at Maryland.

YOU CAN CALL ME AL

Carroll's favorite player growing up was CB Al Harris, who held a stint with the Eagles (1998-2002). "I saw this guy flying around on TV with these dreadlocks," said Carroll. "I was like, 'Who is this guy?' He looks like the Predator."

After watching Harris perform on Sundays, Carroll began to grow dreads of his own his freshman year in college. He cut them off once he entered the NFL. "Ironically, Al ended up being my teammate my first year in the league," said Carroll. "He coached me after that. It's funny how things turn out."

"I love players that sacrifice their personal statistics for the team and Celek leads the Eagles in that category."

- ESPN analyst Jon Gruden

One of the toughest and most reliable players in team history, Brent Celek does it all from the tight end position. He is a big target in the passing game, a relentless blocker and an unquestioned leader on the squad. Despite not being invited to the NFL Scouting Combine, Celek went on to become a 5th round round in 2007 and developed into one of the most productive Eagle tight ends ever. He has also ingrained himself within the Philadelphia community with his philanthropic work and business acumen. Celek is in the midst of a six-year contract through 2016.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Produced one of the most prolific seasons by an Eagles tight end in 2009, setting career highs in receptions (76), yards (971) and TDs (eight). These numbers were the second-highest single-season totals in team history in all three categories among tight ends. In addition, his yards and touchdown totals ranked fourth among all NFL tight ends
- Set a franchise playoff record with 10 catches, (83 yards and two TDs) in the NFC Championship game on 1/18/09 at Ari. His two TD receptions tied a team postseason record (Chad Lewis, Fred Barnett, Harold Carmichael)
- With 157 receiving yards vs. the Ravens on 9/16/12, Celek recorded the second-highest yardage output by a tight end in franchise history behind Pete Retzlaff's 204 yards vs. Was. on 11/14/65

BIRDSEED

- Founded in 2010, Celek's Take Flight Foundation has a primary goal of providing seriously ill and physically challenged children throughout Greater Philadelphia with daily support and life-changing experiences. For more information, log on to brentcelek.org

BIRDSEED

- Admits getting snubbed for the combine in 2007 was a huge motivating factor for him. Said Celek: "It ticked me off, to be honest. I thought I would be drafted higher, but it just lit a fire under me that I will always carry."
- A friend of die-hard Eagles fan and CSNBC's Mad Money host Jim Cramer, the two met for the first time for dinner in 2009 and have regularly talked about football and finance ever since
- Acquired his desire to invest and research business ventures during his college classes at Cincinnati. "I would often get bored in class and sometimes just log onto the internet during class to research companies." ... Not much has changed today as Celek regularly uses Flip Board to keep up with all the latest news and trends in business, style, entrepreneurship, architecture and design
- Brent's No. 1 fan is his grandfather, Ed, and vice versa. "We've been very close from when he was little on up," Ed said. Brent gave his grandfather the ball from his first touchdown catch in 2007. In fact, Prime Stache, contains a photo of Ed with a mustache on the menu
- Known for routinely taking on multiple defenders to gain an extra yard, Celek says he tries to model that particular part of his game after one of the all-time great running backs. "I grew up watching Jerome Bettis and loved the way he played. He was a beast, the first guy never took him down. When I have the ball in my hands, I try to be like him. That's my mindset."

"Riley is one of the toughest and hardest-working guys in our locker room. We talk a lot about how players have to make the most of their opportunities, and he did just that... He used his size, strength and speed to make a lot of big plays for our team..."

- Eagles Head Coach Chip Kelly

An imposing presence from the wide receiver position, Riley Cooper took full advantage of his opportunity in 2013 as a full-time starter for the first time in his career. Cooper ranked third in the NFL with 17.8 yards per catch as he hauled in 47 passes for 835 yards and eight touchdowns. Cooper signed a five-year contract following the 2013 season. A DAY AT THE BALLPARK

A two-sport star in college, Cooper took part in a Phillies spring training practice in 2013 where he met with the team, took batting practice and shagged fly balls. "It was an awesome experience," said Cooper, a 2006 draftee of the Phillies. "I got to meet all of those guys, it was great. It was also cool to get back out on the field and show that I can hang with them a little bit."

- Eagles linebacker DeMeco Ryans

An athletic and versatile defensive lineman, Fletcher Cox has established himself as one of the team's most productive defensive players after the Eagles traded up three spots in the 2012 draft to take him with the 12th selection overall. Cox was named to the Pro Football Writers of America all-rookie team in 2012 and earned second-team All-Pro honors from The Associated Press following the 2014 season.

BIRDSEED

- Claims the biggest influence on his life and career is his late older brother, Shaddrick, who passed away during the 2015 offseason. Said Cox, "He was my father figure. I always looked up to him, especially for decision making. He always taught me about doing the right things and being successful in life. I try to emulate him every day. He taught me my love for cars"
- Also credits his high school guidance counselor, Christie Cater, and his high school position coach, Kyle Wallace, for his success. "Coach Wallace picked me up every day for summer workouts. He pushed me to my limits."
- Grew up in a small town of Yazoo, MS, which has a population of less than 30,000 people. "It was a big adjustment for me," said Cox, whose graduating class was just 100 people. "When I first got here, I would walk around the city or anywhere and was just amazed at how fast things moved. I ended up loving it. I do like the quiet I get back home, but it's definitely a nice change of pace for me in Philly."

THE MECHANIC

One of Fletcher's passions off the field is fixing up old cars. In fact, he believes he'd most likely work as a mechanic if he wasn't playing football. "I didn't have a much a choice. It runs in the family," said Cox, who lists the 1969 Camaro X275 drag radial hot rod (pictured above) as his favorite car. "My mom works at Nissan and my brother taught me my love for cars. - Eagles Defensive Coordinator Bill Davis

A lifelong fan of the Philadelphia Eagles, Vinny Curry has emerged as a valuable pass-rushing threat in the Eagles defensive line rotation. In 2014, he provided quality production off the bench as he set career highs in sacks (nine) and forced fumbles (four). Selected in the second round in 2012, Curry was named the 2011 Conference USA Defensive Player of the Year as a senior after posting 11 sacks, seven forced fumbles and 22 tackles for a loss.

BIRDSEED

- Grew up as a huge fan of the Eagles. "It all started with Ricky Watters. I originally wanted to play running back and he was my favorite player. After that, I just loved rooting for them, I have pictures and jerseys all over my house. It was such a special moment for me to get drafted by the team I've rooted for all my life."
- Wears No. 75 in remembrance of the 75 lives that were lost in the 1970 Marshall plane crash. "I want to show appreciation for what Marshall meant to me and the great tradition I was part of."
- Grieving the loss of a loved one is a distressing time for anyone and following up a tragic loss with an appearance in an emotionally-charged football game can be overwhelming. As challenging as it was, Vinny Curry did just that. On October 14, 2011, Curry attended his mother's funeral. On October 15, the very next day, he joined his Marshall teammates and defeated conference rival Rice at home, 24-20. Curry had arguably the greatest game of his career as he posted nine tackles, 3.5 sacks and a forced fumble. His performance earned him the FWAA/Bronko Nagurski National Defensive Player of the Week award

RIGHT PLACE, RIGHT TIME

Curry grew up as a die-hard Eagles fan and just so happened to be drafted the day before one of his favorite players, Brian Dawkins, retired as an Eagle. "I know most people say that the draft is the best day of their life, but growing up an Eagles fan and being blessed with the opportunity to see Dawkins retire and give a speech here, this has to be the best day of my life."

STYLIN' AND PROFILIN'

When Curry isn't on the field chasing the quarterback or stuffing the run, he can be found watching his favorite pastime - professional wrestling. In fact, two items on his bucket list include becoming a WWE wrestler and competing at WrestleMania. In college, Curry even dressed up as his favorite all-time wrestler, Ric Flair, during a press conference.

"He was big and had a lot of athleticism. He thought he was a basketball player. After the first month, I told him, 'You have what the NFL is looking for. If you put in the time and effort you can play at the pro level.'"

- Four-time Pro Bowl TE Brent Jones

An athletic and intelligent target at the tight end position, Zach Ertz has developed into a reliable pass-catching option in the Eagles offense after becoming the highest TE drafted by the team (35th overall in 2013) since Keith Jackson was selected in 1988. A former basketball player in high school, Ertz made the transformation to All-American tight end at Stanford, where his 898 receiving yards in 2012 led all Cardinal pass catchers and all FBS tight ends, while his 69 receptions tied for the FBS lead at that position.

BIRDSEED

- After settling down in Philly, one of the first things Ertz wanted to do was help make a lasting impact in the community. Soon after, he was matched up with a family of eight through a local adopt-a-family program. During the holiday season, Ertz did all their Christmas shopping and even hosted the family at the NovaCare Complex where he handed out presents and gave a tour of the Eagles locker room
- At 35th overall (second round), became the highest drafted tight end by the Eagles since Keith Jackson was selected in the first round (13th overall) in 1988

- As a junior, was a unanimous All-American with first-team honors from the American Football Coaches Association, Associated Press, Sporting News and the Walter Camp Football Foundation after leading all Stanford pass catchers and all FBS tight ends in receiving yards (898) and total receptions (69), both school records at the position

LEARNING FROM THE BEST

During high school, Ertz was tutored by four-time Pro Bowl tight end Brent Jones. Jones helped coach the team and paid special attention to Ertz. "He was big and had a lot of athleticism," Jones said. "He thought he was a basketball player. After the first month, I told him, 'You have what the NFL is looking for. If you put in the time and effort you can play at the pro level.'" Jones saw Stanford as the best fit for his pupil and contacted then-Cardinal head coach Jim Harbaugh. Although Ertz suffered a broken wrist early in his junior season, Stanford arrived with a scholarship offer, which Ertz accepted.

"The unique thing about him is that he's played safety, he's played nickel, he's played corner. He's a physical player. He's an outstanding special teams player. You're getting a Bill Snyder coached football player. They love him in Manhattan in terms of what they say about him."

- Eagles Head Coach Chip Kelly

A former walk-on at Kansas St., Randall Evans was selected by the Eagles in the sixth round of the 2015 NFL Draft. Evans appeared in 51 games with 31 starts for the Wildcats, recording 210 tackles, seven interceptions and 35 passes defended during his collegiate career. He earned first-team All-Big 12 accolades in 2014 after leading the team with four interceptions and 14 passes defended in 13 games.

BIRDSEED

- With his high school football career coming to a close, Evans only had a few D-II offers on the table. At a Christmas party hosted by his girlfriend's family, Evans sparked up an unexpected conversation with his girlfriend's brother, Michael Beasley. Beasley, a current NBA star and Kansas State alum, encouraged Evans to look into K-State. In fact, Beasley's mother went as far as contacting an assistant coach on the men's basketball team to recommend Evans to the football program. Evans ultimately chose K-State, walked on and achieved All-Big 12 honors as a senior in 2014

PERSONAL

- Father, Sheldon Evans, is a correctional officer and mother, Melissa Doctor, is a stay-at-home mother
- Claims that his uncle, Robert Doctor, has been the biggest influence on his life. "He introduced me to football at an early age and was always encouraging me to go to college. He continued to raise the bar because of the confidence he had in me."
- Graduated from Kansas State in December 2014 with two bachelor's degrees -- one in sociology with an emphasis in criminology and the other in American ethnic studies
- If not playing football, he would be working as a probation officer
- Enjoys watching Pro Bowl CB Darrelle Revis. "He is an extremely smart cornerback and his technique has made him one of the top players in the NFL. To me, great technique trumps talent any day. Obviously, Revis is a very talented corner, but it's his technique that really stands out."
- The best players he ever lined up against at Kansas State included Rams WR Tavon Austin (West Virginia) and Saints WR Kenny Stills (Oklahoma)
- His favorite sports moment was watching Patriots CB Malcolm Butler make a game-winning interception on the goal line to clinch New England's Super Bowl XLIX victory over the Seattle Seahawks

- His most memorable personal moment was earning a scholarship as a redshirt sophomore at Kansas State. To Evans, walking on as a freshman was one of the biggest challenges he has ever had to face
- As a first job, Evans served as a waiter at a restaurant called the Bamboo Shack
- Would like to eventually visit Paris and London
- If he could be any superhero, it would be Batman
- Played two seasons at Miami Palmetto (FL) High School where he helped the Panthers earn a state runner-up finish as a junior after picking off seven passes. Notched five interceptions and 50 tackles as a senior. Attended South Miami (FL) High School as a freshman and sophomore before transferring to Miami Palmetto
- Recorded his first-career interception as a high school sophomore when he lined up against then-Miami Springs WR and current Colts Pro Bowler T.Y. Hilton

"He's a very trustworthy guy. He sticks on blocks, and I think that's one of the things he does well. If he gets his hands on you, typically it's hard for the defender to come off. He's got some experience, so it's not surprising to us that he would go in there and do a good job."

-Eagles Offensive Coordinator Pat Shurmur

Originally a sixth-round draft pick of the Miami Dolphins in 2009, Andrew Gardner signed with the Eagles as a free agent during the 2014 offseason and provides the team with quality depth on the offensive line. Gardner previously held stints with the Dolphins (2009-10), Baltimore Ravens (2010), Minnesota Vikings (2010) Cincinnati Bengals (2010-11) and Houston Texans (2011-13) during his career. The Tyrone, GA native was a four-year starter at Georgia Tech where he was a two-time, first-team All-ACC selection as a junior and senior.

A former walk-on at Michigan State, Andrew Gleichert signed with the Eagles as a rookie free agent following the 2015 NFL Draft. Gleichert appeared in 33 games for the Spartans and while he played the majority of his career at tight end, he doubled as a fullback as a senior in 2014.

BIRDSEED

- As a former walk-on at Michigan State and an undrafted rookie free agent, Gleichert believes his underdog attitude has helped him make it onto an NFL roster. "The way I approach it is that I have to work twice as hard as the next guy to get noticed."
- Was also a standout basketball player in high school and was recruited as a center to play at the Division III level, but decided to walk on to Michigan State's football team instead

"He's a real smart football player... Got a very good understanding of both linebacker positions inside, played really, really well for us on special teams...He's got kind of an extra gear that I think some of our backers don't have, explosive, can really run..."

- Eagles Head Coach Chip Kelly

Originally a fifth-round selection of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2012, Najee Goode's (pronounced NAH-gee) promising 2014 season was cut short after he suffered a torn pectoral muscle in Week 1. After being claimed off waivers by the Eagles prior to the start of the 2013 regular season, Goode provided quality depth at both the inside linebacker position and on special teams. While starring collegiately at West Virginia, Goode tied a school record by playing in 52 career games and garnered first-team All-Big East honors after leading the team with 87 tackles, 15 tackles for loss and five sacks as a senior.

BIRDSEED

- Goode's football career was almost over before it even began after he broke his femur as a freshman in high school. "I remember it to this day," said Goode. "It was on a screen play. The doctors told me I would never be able to play football again because the injury was right on my growth plate." After surgery and many months of rehab, Goode overcame the odds and returned to the field for the end of his sophomore season. "That year sitting out was very tough for me. I'm just so happy everything worked out."
- Runs a free football camp at home in Cleveland called the Goode 2 Great Football Skills Camp. He is also involved with The Cleveland Muny Football League, a development organization that focuses on teaching the game of football through teamwork, sportsmanship and fundamentals. Najee and his father, John Goode, are the first father-son duo to take snaps for the Eagles. John played in 14 games for the Eagles in 1985. Said Najee: "When I signed with the Eagles my father told me that the fans are extremely passionate about their sports. He said I should enjoy the moment and just make plays ... I was 4 years old and I knew the Eagles chant - E-A-G-L-E-S, EAGLES! I used to hear my dad do it all the time."

"When you are talking about going forward, Brandon has a lot of power... When he goes to his bull rush, people move backwards, no matter how big they are."

- Eagles Defensive Coordinator Bill Davis

Originally a first-round draft choice of the Eagles in 2010, Brandon Graham began his career as a defensive end, but made the transition to outside linebacker in 2013. Graham proved more than capable of the switch in 2014 when he matched his career-high with 5.5 sacks, forced a career-high four fumbles and ranked second and third on the defense, respectively, with 13.5 tackles for a loss and 18 QB hurries. Graham was rewarded for his play during the 2015 offseason with a four-year deal that will keep him in Philadelphia through the 2018 season.

BIRDSEED

- Organized a co-ed, high school football camp in Michigan called the Select 100 that takes 10 students (five boys and five girls) from each of Detroit's 20 public schools. The inaugural camp took place in summer 2015 and will help promote teamwork, confidence through sports and self esteem. At the suggestion of his wife, Carlyne, Graham decided that it was important to incorporate girls into the program, as the couple recognized the void for female football camps
- In the offseason, trains in Detroit with former Michigan LBs and current Arizona Cardinals Larry Foote and LaMarr Woodley. Works out at a Detroit boxing facility, Barwis Methods, with trainer Mike Barwis
- Graham is currently nine credits shy of obtaining a degree in sport management and plans to finish following his football career. He has also taken an interest in sports broadcasting and would like to attend the NFL's Broadcast Boot Camp in the future
- Names his mother, Tasha Graham, as being the most influential person in his life. A cancer survivor, Tasha was diagnosed with leukemia at a young age. She spent most of her life working at a Chrysler auto plant to support Brandon and his three sisters. Recalled Tasha, "The doctors told me I would never be able to have kids, so I cherish them because of that. When I was working at Chrysler, working hard, trying to make ends meet, it was for them and Brandon saw that."
- Rod Oden, who was an assistant coach at Crocket while Graham was in high school, is now the head coach there and fondly reflects on Graham's work ethic and the impact he has made on the program. "He was an absolute leader. The entire school would follow Brandon. He's a leader in demonstration. We say, 'Leadership is demonstrated, it's not announced.' He walks in a room and his presence commands respect. People see him put in the extra hours. They see him run the extra sprints, lift the extra weights, and they follow. Now we have kids who want to be the next Brandon. They're still following."

"Outstanding, young man. Great position versatility with him. Josh played every position when we were at Oregon, so he's been an outside receiver, an inside receiver... You're getting a physical football player... He has a nasty presence to himself, so he's not risk-adverse to contact. He's going to get after people."

- Eagles Head Coach Chip Kelly

One of the most productive receivers in the history of Oregon football, Josh Huff was a third-round draft pick of the Eagles in 2014 and burst onto the scene as a special teams standout for the Birds, setting a franchise record with his 107-yard kickoff return for a score vs. Ten. (11/23/14). Huff established school records in 2013 with 1,140 receiving yards, 12 touchdown grabs and six 100-yard games. The Houston, TX, native finished his career at Oregon tied for first all-time with 24 TDs, seventh in receiving yards (2,366) and eighth in receptions (144).

2014 HIGHLIGHTS

- Recorded one catch for 4 yards in his NFL debut vs. StL (10/5)

BIRDSEED

- Although he began playing organized football at the age of 9, Huff's love for the game was evident at an even earlier age. Starting when he was a 3-year-old, Huff carried a football around wherever he went and even took it to bed. Recalled Huff, "My dad would try to take it away, but I would always cry."
- One of his favorite memories growing up occurred when he was 11 years old. Huff used to play in pick up, 11-on-11 games in his neighborhood with guys that were 18 to 20 years old. Said Huff, "I used to get hit pretty hard, but I loved playing. The one moment I will never forget is returning a kickoff and running down the sideline. A big guy had the perfect angle to get me down, but I dodged the tackle by running in between his legs and scored."
- Models his game after Ravens WR Steve Smith, Sr. "He's short and I'm short. He's got heart and I've got heart. He plays with tenacity and I play with tenacity."
- Names his father, Donald Simpson, as the most influential person in his life. Huff admires how humble and hard working Simpson is in his job as a crane operator, working up to 15 hours per day. "He takes so much pride in that job."

BIRDSEED - Cont.

- In 2012, was presented with the Jesse Owens Influential Athlete Award by the Ohio State Alumni Association. This award acknowledges "an African-American alumnus and former student-athlete who exemplifies great character and talent, demonstrates exceptional professional success and continues to reflect the highest qualities of a consummate athlete and humanitarian"
- Through the Malcolm Jenkins Foundation, he has worked to teach kids not only educational tools, but life skills. "When you see a kid take what you've taught them and apply it in their own lives and hear reports from their peers or their teachers or parents on how their experience in one of our programs has impacted them, that's the most rewarding part. That's happened on multiple occasions. That's the reason why we do it."
- Was high school teammate of 49ers tackle Anthony Davis and Jets cornerback Kyle Wilson, all of whom went on to be first-round draft choices
- After reading The Zombie Survival Guide by Max Brooks, Jenkins began collecting an array of different survival tools in what he describes as "a half-hearted attempt at doomsday prepping." Also names AMC's The Walking Dead as his favorite TV show
- Jenkins believes that the most underrated attribute a safety must possess is the ability to communicate and remain calm on the field. "It's not just making a call or saying the right thing and knowing what you're doing. When everyone's panicking, you have to be that calming voice and make a decision, make it loud and get everybody on the same page. A lot of people wait for you to tell them what to do from the safety position."
- His wife, Morrisa, recently started a company called Meaux Moisture which sells all-natural body care products. "I use her products on my beard," says Jenkins. "I give all the credit for my beard to my wife." For more information on the company visit: www.meauxmoisture.com

A 6th round draft pick of the Eagles in 2012, Kelce made the most of his opportunity as a rookie and became an immediate starter. Following the 2013 season, he was rewarded with a seven-year contract extension through 2020.

PERSONAL

- Attended Cleveland Heights (OH) High School, performing as a linebacker and running back for head coach Mike Jones. Was a two-time All Lake Erie-Lake League selection
- Graduated from Cincinnati with a degree in marketing
- Comes from a football lineage, as his younger brother, Travis, was a teammate at Cincinnati (2008-10) as a tight end and was drafted by Kansas City in 2013. His uncle, Don Blalock, played defensive tackle for Purdue (1976-77) and his grandfather, Don Blalock, played football at Ohio University
- Son of Donna and Ed Kelce. Donna works in banking, while Ed is a sales rep in the steel business. Cites his dad as the biggest influence on his career. "He really pushed me to be the best I could be and was somebody that I've always looked up to."
- Favorite teams/players growing up: "I was a huge fan of all the Cleveland sports teams. I was also a fan of the star players like Michael Jordan, Wayne Gretzky and Jerome Bettis."
- Pundits have compared him to All-Pro Jeff Saturday. Kelce met with Saturday after his rookie season to pick his brain. "One of the things I learned from him is that it's not only a physical battle between you and the defensive linemen, but it's also a mental battle."
- Kelce on twitter: @JKelce ... on Instagram: jkelce

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Part of an offensive line that helped block for the NFL's leading rusher, LeSean McCoy, who finished with a franchise-best 1,607 yards
- Helped Eagles set a team record with 6,676 total yards of offense and a then-team record 442 points

2011 HIGHLIGHTS

- Was named to Dallas Morning News columnist Rick Gosselin's NFL All-Rookie team after starting all 16 games for an offense that set a team record in first downs (356) and a then-team record in total net yards (6,386)
- Along with Danny Watkins, became the first Eagles rookie line-men duo to start 10-or-more games in the same season
- Became the first Eagles rookie offensive lineman to start all 16 games since Doug Brzezinski did so in 1999 and the first rookie in team history to start every game at center. He is also just the 16th player in NFL history to start every game at center during a rookie campaign
- Was part of an offensive line that received the Madden Protector Award at NYG (11/20) and vs. Dal. (10/30). This award is given each week of the regular season to the NFL's top performing offensive line and recognizes the fundamental role offensive linemen play in their teams' success

- In 2008, earned Sophomore All-American third-team and All-Big East Conference second-team honors from The NFL Draft Report in his first season as a starter. Lined up at left offensive guard for all 13 games and paved the way for an offense that averaged 370.6 yards per game

A young and versatile lineman, Dennis Kelly was originally a fifth-round selection of the Eagles in the 2012 NFL Draft. Kelly has provided quality depth for the Eagles offensive line, seeing spot starts at right tackle, right guard and left guard during his tenure in Philadelphia. A four-year letterman at Purdue, Kelly was named a team co-captain as a senior and was a two-time offensive MVP.

2014 HIGHLIGHTS

- Started at LG for the first time in his career at Ind. (9/15), filling in for an injured Evan Mathis

BIRDSEED

- Enjoyed working in the community during his time at Purdue. Kelly would volunteer at the Boys & Girls Club and would also work the PALs football camp every summer
- Claims that the biggest influence on his life and career is his entire family. "We're a Southside [Chicago] Irish family, so we share a really tight bond and they've inspired me to get to where I am today."
- His brother, Tim, played football at Eastern Illinois and is currently an offensive quality control coach for the Houston Texans

IN THE TRENCHES

- Favorite o-lineman of all-time: Former Rams tackle Orlando Pace. "He forever changed the way offensive linemen are labeled. If you have a stat grid created for you as an offensive lineman [referencing Pace], then that means you were probably a very special player, and that he was."
- Most challenging aspect of his job: "Putting everything together both mentally and physically. From your decision-making, to reading the defense and various blitz packages, to the different schemes - it takes a lot of patience and concentration."
- Most memorable block: Pancaking Cowboys DT Jay Ratliff right in front of the Eagles bench
- Best players he ever lined up against: Raiders DE Justin Tuck and Redskins LB Ryan Kerrigan
- Most underrated attribute at tackle: "The one-on-one aspect of the game. Although you're competing as an offense and as a line to accomplish certain goals, tackle is the only offensive position where you are put out on an island or out in space and have a protection assignment."
- Worst part of being 6-8, 321: "You can't hide anywhere and you always stand out in public. It's always tough to go shopping for shoes, shirts and pants. Shirts are either too big or not long enough."

"There's such a drive there with him. You either have it or you don't. He does, and the potential is unlimited for him."

- Eagles Linebacker DeMeco Ryans

A second-round draft choice of the Eagles in 2012, the speedy and instinctive Mychal Kendricks was immediately inserted as a starter on the Eagles defense in his rookie campaign and has since developed into one of the unit's top playmakers. The 2011 Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year at Cal, Kendricks appeared in all 51 games during his four-year college career.

BIRDSEED

- Mychal's father, Marvin, was on the Eagles training camp roster in 1972 after playing college football at UCLA, where he led the Bruins in rushing twice in 1970 and 1971. Said Mychal: "He was so happy the day I got drafted here because the Eagles were his team. I remember being so excited, but he may have even been more excited. He followed them all the time when I was growing up. It was a dream come true for the both of us."
- Kendricks' brother, Eric, was a second-round selection of the Minnesota Vikings in the 2015 NFL Draft

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

PERSONAL

- Most underrated attribute of playing linebacker: "You need to be a little crazy. All good linebackers either have a few screws loose or a few screws wound too tight. It's a high-contact position and you need to not only not be afraid to constantly hit people, you need to love it. Only crazy people can do that."
- A huge fan of former Broncos running back Terrell Davis growing up, Kendricks donned #30 in college in honor of him
- Starred at Hoover HS in Fresno, CA, leading his club with 175 tackles and 4.0 sacks as a senior, while also registering a team-best 742 rushing yards on 103 carries and six touchdowns, as well as 1,035 all purpose yards
- Parents are Yvonne Thagon and Marvin Kendricks. Yvonne is a pharmacist technician and Marvin is a retired social worker. Also has a stepmother, Joanne, who is a medical sales rep for Merck
- His three brothers all played college football: Chad (graduated from Sacramento State), Terence (graduated from Fresno State) and Eric (graduated from UCLA). Eric currently plays for the Minnesota Vikings

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Led the NFL with four fumble recoveries and finished the year ranked second on the team with a career-high 137 tackles
- Forced a fumble of RB DeMarco Murray and intercepted QB Kyle Orton at Dal. (12/29). The two turnovers led to 10 points by the Eagles on their ensuing drives. Also tallied 11 tackles
- Posted a career-high two sacks of QB Jay Cutler vs. Chi. (12/22)
- Collared 12 tackles and posted a sack and INT (QB Matt Cassel) in the same game for the first time in his career at Min. (12/15)

RENAISSANCE MAN

While he was always known for his athletic talents on the field growing up, Kendricks' passion off the field is in the fine arts. Kendricks attended Bullard Talent, a private school that specializes in the fine arts from kindergarten through 8th grade. While there, Kendricks acted in plays such as Robin Hood, Aladdin and The Lion King. He also learned to dance in hip-hop, urban, tap and jazz styles. Said Kendricks: "I really have an appreciation for all kinds of art and going there really instilled that in me at a young age. I would go there during the day and then play sports for other schools. I remember you'd have to win a raffle to get your kids in, so my mom did that for me and I got lucky."

A former standout at the University of Tulsa, G.J. Kinne is in his third season with the Eagles after spending all of 2014 and the latter half of 2013 on the practice squad. Kinne was originally signed by the NY Jets as a rookie free agent in 2012. After being released by the Jets in June, Kinne held stints with the Omaha Nighthawks of the UFL and the San Antonio Talons of the Arena Football League. The Mesquite, TX, native was the 2010 Conference USA Offensive Player of the Year.

BIRDSEED

- During the 2014 offseason, coached a spring select football team of middle schoolers in North Texas that played in the Texas School of Football league. "I love giving back to the kids of Mesquite, TX, and teaching them the fundamentals of football and just general lessons of life."
- Was recruited and offered to play linebacker by Oklahoma. "I really thought about doing it. They were my second offer behind Baylor. I really liked Brent Venables [now the defensive coordinator at Clemson]. But my heart was at quarterback." He eventually signed with Texas as a quarterback before transferring to Tulsa
- Played for six different offensive coordinators in five years: Greg Davis (now OC at Iowa) in 2007 at Texas, Gus Malzahn (now head coach at Auburn) in 2008 at Tulsa, Herb Hand (now run game coordinator/o-line coach at Penn State) from 2007-09 at Tulsa, Mike Norvell (now OC at Arizona State) in 2009 at Tulsa, Chad Morris (now head coach at SMU) in 2010 at Tulsa and Greg Peterson in 2011 at Tulsa
- G.J.'s father, Gary Joe Kinne, attended training camp with the Eagles in 1990 following a standout career at Baylor. G.J. grew up an Eagles fan due to his dad's stint with the team and admired Eagles QB Donovan McNabb

PERSONAL

- Favorite sports memory was traveling to Notre Dame in 2010 and defeating the Fighting Irish, 28-27. Kinne led the Golden Hurricane to a touchdown on their opening drive and completed 18-of-34 passes for 196 yards and one score (a 9-yard pass to former Eagle Damaris Johnson), while leading the team in rushing with 20 carries for 78 yards
- Believes that the most underrated attributes needed at the quarterback position are the abilities to extend the play and be a playmaker outside of the pocket. In his three years with the Golden Hurricane, Kinne proved to be a threat to score through the air and on the ground. He rushed for 1,359 yards and 15 scores, while leading the team in rushing in both his sophomore and junior campaigns
- While at Tulsa, was tutored by the program's QB coach, Press Taylor, who is now the offensive quality control coach for the Eagles
- Greatest love besides football is coaching his two younger brothers

That Happened: Once mistaken for James Harden by a fan while attending a 76ers-Rockets game

"He's a smart football player, hard worker. He's stout. Built the way we want him. He's a real long arm guy in there. He's got really good levers trying to keep the center off of him and making plays. He can hold off the center, get off the block and make tackles."

- Eagles Head Coach Chip Kelly

A 3rd round draft choice of the Eagles in 2013, Bennie Logan has been a dependable force and productive member of the Eagles defensive line from the nose tackle position. The Coushatta, LA, native helped anchor LSU's defensive line and wore the famed #18 jersey during his final season in Baton Rouge

BIRDSEED

- Credits his grandmother, Ella Faye Bonner, and his cousin, Harry Gary, as the two biggest influences in his life. "My grandmother is my hero because when my mother passed away, she took me in and raised me from junior high to high school and even helped me through college," said Logan. "My cousin, Harry, pushed me to work hard and motivated me and stayed on me. He paid for me to go to LSU's camp and that's when I really came onto the scene. Without him helping me by paying for me to go to the camp and by pushing me to work hard, I wouldn't be in the place that I am."
- If Logan could trade places with one person for one day, he would like to experience what it is like to be homeless. "I come from a background that wasn't the best and it would be interesting to see how it is to live without a house and to have to look for food every day. It would make you more appreciative and would make you stop taking things for granted."
- Believes that if he wasn't playing football, he would be in the law enforcement field, either as an FBI agent or a U.S. Marshal. "Growing up as a little kid, I always wanted to be a firefighter or a police officer," Logan stated. "As I got older, I learned more about the expert fields of law enforcement. I started watching more shows about the U.S. Marshals and the FBI and saw all the things that they do. It made me want to travel all over the world and hunt for fugitives like they do."
- Named the "Game of the Century," a 2011 match-up between unbeaten LSU and Alabama as his favorite college game. It was the first time two undefeated SEC teams met as the #1 and #2 ranked teams in the country. LSU won a defensive struggle, 9-6.

2014 HIGHLIGHTS

- Registered 61 tackles despite playing only 55% of the defensive snaps
- Forced a fumble for the first time in his career from Titans RB Bishop Sankey vs. Ten. (11/23)
- Tallied a career-high 8 tackles at Ind. (9/15) and again vs. Was. (9/21)

A collegiate standout at Washington State, Travis Long was signed by the Eagles during training camp in 2013. A four-year starter with the Cougars, Long finished his collegiate career with 201 tackles and 20.5 sacks. In 2014, Long tore the ACL in his left leg during the preseason finale and was placed on Injured Reserve on 8/30/14.

BIRDSEED

• Long capped off a successful college career with a breakout year as a senior, recording a career-high 9.5 sacks in 2012. However, Long suffered a torn ACL in his second-to-last game. So, I think NFL teams kind of forgot about me." Long did not get drafted or signed as a rookie free agent. Instead, he kept rehabbing and waiting for that call. It finally came in the middle of the summer. "My doctors cleared me in July and the Eagles got on the phone with me pretty much right away. It was a dream come true."

DROP

In any other sport, what position would you play and what team: Second baseman for the Milwaukee Brewers

Three must-haves on a deserted island: Fresh water, flint stone, Swiss Army knife

Favorite TV show: Shark Tank

First jersey: Michael Jordan, Chicago Bulls

Favorite Quote: From his father - "Whatever your mind can conceive and believe, it can achieve"

Favorite family tradition: Going to every Wisconsin home football game as a kid

"Chris is a player that every special teams coach in the league knows about. He is a relentless worker and is as valuable to the team in the meeting room as he is on the field."

- Eagles Special Teams Coordinator Dave Fipp

One of the top special teams players in the league, Chris Maragos took a long and arduous road to even reach the NFL. He made it despite not receiving any offers to play football coming out of high school or any sort of ranking on Rivals. He walked on at both Western Michigan and Wisconsin as a receiver and received a scholarship offer for only his final season with the Badgers. He joined the 49ers as a rookie free agent in 2010 with a signing bonus of $4,000 but became a special teams standout during a three-year tenure with Seattle from 2011-13, which included a Super Bowl championship. He joined the Eagles after signing a three-year contract in 2014 and led the team with 14 special teams tackles.

BIRDSEED

- Credits his father, Nick, for instilling the relentless work ethic he possesses. "We never stopped practicing when I was growing up," said Chris, who was coached by his father in little league football. "We'd play catch with the football for hours in our cul-de-sac and then he'd hit ground ball after ground ball to me on many hot summer days. He taught me all about work ethic, commitment and character."
- When asked who he tries to model his game after in the NFL, Maragos quickly responded with Matthew Slater and Earl Thomas. "Matthew plays the game with so much character, integrity and heart and Earl excels in the mental aspect of the game. He's always pressing the issue on and off the field."
- Played with E.J. Biggers and Louis Delmas while at Western Michigan
- Trains with former Badgers and current NFLers DeAndre Levy, Nick Hayden, J.J. Watt, and Kevin Zeitler at NX Level in Waukesha, WI in the offseason

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Has recorded 49 special teams tackles in 62 regular season games. He registered 30 tackles during a three-year span in Seattle (2011-13)

2014 HIGHLIGHTS

- A force on the NFL's top-ranked special teams units, he led the team with 14 special teams tackles, while forcing a fumble, blocking a punt and scoring his first career TD after a blocked punt. He was voted as a 2nd alternate to the Pro Bowl
- Forced a fumble by Preston Parker on the kickoff team at NYG (12/28)
- Deflected a Steve Weatherford punt vs. NYG (10/12)
- Scooped up a Johnny Hekker punt (blocked by James Casey) and returned it 10 yards for his first career NFL touchdown vs. Stl (10/5). The TD was his first since a fake field goal run for a score as a member of the Wisconsin Badgers in 2009

THE SOCIAL NETWORK

Maragos used an unlikely source to get his shot at Wisconsin - Facebook. "I was a walk-on receiver at Western Michigan, but it was always a dream of mine to play at Wisconsin," said Maragos. "My brother was the mascot there and he knew some guys on the team. So, I decided to give it a shot."

Maragos looked up Wisconsin's starting WR Luke Swan on Facebook and sent him a message. "I told him my brother was Bucky Badger and wanted a shot to play at Wisconsin. He responded and got my film in front of the coaches. Next thing I knew they were asking me to walk on. It was amazing."

PERSONAL

- He and his wife, Serah, have two sons, Micah and Mason and reside in Philadelphia and Naples, FL
- Son of Nick and Cindy Maragos. Nick played safety at Northern Iowa
- Brother, Troy, served as Bucky Badger, the Wisconsin mascot. Troy is currently a pastor in Naples, FL.

"Ryan's been a really good addition to us. He's a big, physical running back. I don't think you really know actually how big he is until you actually pull up next to him...He's explosive. When he sees a hole, he can change gears and accelerate through it...There's not a lot of guys that have that speed to go along with that size."

"He's young and he's got courage, so he can run around and catch the ball with people around him. When he catches the ball, he sets his hair on fire and runs. If we didn't have fences around here, he'd run into the street. He's one of the best finishers we have."

- Eagles Offensive Coordinator Pat Shurmur

One of the most prolific receivers in SEC history, Jordan Matthews was selected by the Eagles in the second round of the 2014 NFL Draft and made an instant impact as a rookie, ranking second on the team in receptions (67), receiving yardage (872) and receiving touchdowns (eight). The Southeastern Conference's all-time leader in receptions (262) and receiving yards (3,759), Matthews earned All-America honors and first-team All-SEC recognition in both his junior and senior campaigns. As a senior in 2013, Matthews established a then-SEC record with 112 catches and tied for the third-highest single-season receiving yardage total with 1,477 yards. A native of Madison, AL, he was a three-year starter at wide receiver at Madison Academy and earned team MVP honors as a senior captain in 2009.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Finished his rookie season ranked second all-time among Eagles rookies in receptions (67) and receiving yards (872) and tied for second in receiving touchdowns (eight)

BIRDSEED

- Matthews is a cousin of Hall of Fame wide receiver Jerry Rice, the NFL's all-time leader in receptions (1,549), receiving yardage (22,895) and touchdown receptions (197). The Vanderbilt product fondly remembers his pre-draft conversation with the Hall of Famer. "The conversation that sticks out most with me was the one that we had before the whole draft process," said Matthews. "[Rice] told me that every checkpoint that you go to, go into it like you're the best one there. Not to use a cliché, but own the moment. Really feel that there's no one there that can mess with me."
- Matthews didn't start playing football until he became the subject of some playful ribbing from his classmates in grade school. "I was getting made fun of by my friends because I played soccer," he said. "I was really good at soccer and had really good feet. I was asked to join a couple of travel teams, but I was getting made fun of by some of my best friends. So it was time to go play football."
- States that his "Welcome to the NFL" moment came during the team's 33-10 victory over the Dallas Cowboys on Thanksgiving Day in 2014. "It was crazy knowing that everybody in the country was sitting down to watch the game that we were playing in. That was when I first realized how big of a stage we are truly on."

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER

It's not often you hear of an NFL player who did not play organized sports as a child, but that's exactly what happened with Frank Mays.

"I never played sports," said Mays. "I don't really have a good reason why, I just never did. Then when I was 18, I was a senior in high school, I figured I'd give football a shot."

Ironically, Mays says the person who first put the idea in his head was the school janitor. Said Mays: "Everybody knows him as 'Big E.' He would always tell me that with my size, it's a shame I'm not on the football team. I'm glad I listened to him."

After high school, Mays spent two years playing football at Central Lakes Community college before earning a full scholarship to Florida A&M. Two years later, he signed his rookie free agent contract with the Eagles. "Now that I've been playing football, I don't know how I ever did without it. I love it, love the physicality of the game, love the competition. It changed my life. It's funny how things work out sometimes," said Mays.

If he could play another sport what team/position: Small forward for the L.A. Clippers. "I've done that on NBA 2K a million times."

High school teammates in the NFL: LB Todd Thomas, Jacksonville Jaguars

Former athletes from his high school: Joe Namath attended McBryde's middle school and high school

First jersey: Tracy McGrady, Houston Rockets

Bucket list: Wants to put on a concert with his brother and cousins

Hobbies: Singing, playing the drums and learning the acoustic guitar

Favorite musicians: Carter Beauford (drummer for Dave Matthews Band), Tony Royster Jr. (drummer for Jay-Z) and Aaron Spears (drummer for Usher)

Favorite books: Frankenstein by Mary Shelley

Favorite athletes growing up: Troy Polamalu and Jerome Bettis

A 2015 rookie free agent signee of the Philadelphia Eagles, B.J. McBryde played in 30 games for the Connecticut Huskies and made eight starts at defensive tackle as a senior in 2014. Was a two-year captain at Beaver Falls (PA) H.S. and notched 72 tackles as a senior.

BIRDSEED

- Although he goes by B.J., McBryde's full name is Ronald Brendan John McBryde III. Each part of his name has a tie to his family, as his father (Ronald), mother (Brenda) and grandfather (John) are all incorporated in his full name
- His younger brother, Gerren, is currently in business school, but is an aspiring musician who plays the keyboard and the organ, in addition to writing and producing his own music. Growing up in a family of pastors (great-grandfather, grandfather and uncle), B.J. and Gerrin took an interest in music at a young age. Their father, Ronald, is the assistant pastor and the minister of music at their local church and taught Gerren how to play the keyboard and organ
- McBryde had a late start to his football career, as he didn't begin playing until high school. "I was 17 or 18 years old when I started playing," says McBryde. "I had been playing basketball forever and everybody in Beaver Falls has this mentality that they are going to be the next Michael Jordan. I was one of them, but I just wasn't tall enough. The football coach had begged me every year since middle school to join the team, and finally I joined as a junior. It's a funny story actually. When I was a senior, my mom wouldn't sign the papers for me to go to football camp because she thought I should focus on basketball. Well, I signed the papers myself, told her I was going to camp and she went nuts (laughs). She's happy I did it now though."
- During high school, participated in a program called CLAY, which provides summer work opportunities for students to help them get a head start on post-education careers. Every day during the summer at 5 a.m., took a bus to Duquesne University where he worked as an office assistant in the school of business

"He's got a pretty good feel for it. David's really smart. He picks things up really quickly. He picked our offense up really quickly. He actually did some in college because when he was at Michigan, Rich Rodriguez was there, so he's got some experience in a tempo-type system."

- Eagles Head Coach Chip Kelly

Originally a seventh-round draft selection of San Diego in 2012, David Molk signed as a free agent with the Eagles during the 2014 offseason after spending the previous season out of football. A four-year starter at the University of Michigan, Molk provided quality depth for the Eagles, appearing in eight games with four starts as a reserve center. 2014 HIGHLIGHTS

- Made his first NFL start at SF (9/28) in place of an injured Jason Kelce
- Played the majority of the game at left guard in a win vs. Jax. (9/7) after Evan Mathis left late in the second quarter with a knee injury

BIRDSEED

- During warmups of the 2012 Sugar Bowl, Molk felt a pop in his foot and, under the direction of the Michigan coaching staff, did not start the contest. However, after seeing the offense struggle on the first series of the game, in part due to a couple of errant snaps, Molk inserted himself into the game and didn't miss a snap for the remainder of the contest, helping the Wolverines rally to a 23-20 victory over Virginia Tech
- Favorite thing about playing football: "It truly is a test of will, fortitude, strength and speed. It's a one-on-one match-up and battle and it's all happening at one time. Every play is something different -- a different scenario and a different situation. With football, it's one thing that's ever-changing, so you never really get to the point where you are beating everyone at everything because there's always some guy or some scheme or blitz that you have to pick up and adapt to."

THREE-STEP DROP

In any other sport, what position would you play and what team:

Pitcher for the New York Yankees

First jersey owned: Shaquille O'Neal, Orlando Magic

Funniest Eagles: Donnie Jones and Jon Dorenbos

First job: Working the grill at Wendy's in Atlanta, TX. After practice, I would ride three miles on my bike to work and made $140/week.

Best player ever lined up against: Dwight Freeney, he'll change the whole game around if you can't block him

Talent he'd like to have: To be an engineer for Microsoft and invent some thing as impactful as the internet

"To get a big guy playing tackle that can pass protect like he does and work his way down the field, God didn't create many people like him."

- NBC Sunday Night Football analyst
Cris Collinsworth

In 2000, he was a redshirt defensive lineman in college, laboring on Arkansas' scout team. In 2004, he was a rookie free agent tight end just looking for playing time in Buffalo. Now, he is a seven-time Pro Bowl and six-time All Pro offensive tackle who is building his resume for a spot in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. In between is the remarkable story of Jason Peters, who is regarded by many experts as the best left tackle in the game, and who has anchored the Eagles offensive line since being acquired in a trade from Buffalo in 2009. Peters was rewarded with a five-year contract following the 2013 season that will keep the tackle in Philadelphia through 2018.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- With his seventh Pro Bowl selection and fifth as an Eagle in 2014, Peters has garnered the 2nd most Pro Bowl nominations by an offensive lineman in team history behind Chuck Bednarik (eight) who did so as a two-way player at center and linebacker
- Earned Pro Bowl honors in five consecutive seasons (2007-11) and All-Pro honors following the 2007, '08, '10, '11, '13 and '14 campaigns
- Joined Frank "Bucko" Kilroy (1953-55) as the only two offensive linemen in franchise history to earn a Pro Bowl berth in three consecutive years
- Since Peters' first Pro Bowl selection in 2007, only Cleveland's Joe Thomas (eight) has been selected to as many Pro Bowls as a tackle
- Has two career touchdowns: Blocked a punt and recovered it in the end zone (12/19/04 at Cin.) and caught J.P. Losman's first career TD pass (9/11/05 vs. Hou.)

BIRDSEED

- Originally signed with the Buffalo Bills in 2004 as a rookie free agent tight end with a signing bonus of $5,000. Peters went undrafted despite an impressive workout at the NFL Scouting Combine, including a 4.8 time in the 40-yard dash. Credits the draft-day snub with giving him extra motivation
- Credits former Bills coach Mike Mularkey for his career-changing switch from tight end to tackle in 2005. "Offensive line was one of our weak points and I remember wanting to get on the field any way I could. Coach Mularkey told me about it and Mouse [o-line coach Jim McNally] and I got to work."
- Was once taken out of a baseball game as a 9-year old after the umpire and opposing coach were convinced he was too old to play. "I struck out 9 batters in the first three innings. My mother had to go home and get my birth certificate before I was allowed back in the game. After I did, I hit a home run."

"I just don't see Peters in any trouble ever in pass protection. He's better than everybody he blocks every week. He's a great run blocker and he is outstanding pass protection."

- ESPN analyst Jon Gruden

"He's grown up around the game. You can sense that when you're around him. One thing about Ed, you can sense how much he really loves playing football. Physical, hard-nosed, what you're looking for."

- Eagles Head Coach Chip Kelly

A former All-America selection out of Stanford University, Ed Reynolds was signed to the Eagles practice squad following the preseason after originally being selected by Philadelphia in the fifth round of the 2014 NFL Draft. Reynolds started 27 games at free safety for Stanford, where he recorded 140 tackles and seven interceptions during his career. In 2012, he earned third-team All-America honors as he amassed 47 tackles and six interceptions (three of which he returned for touchdowns). Born in Greensboro, NC, he is the son of former NFL linebacker and league employee Ed Reynolds.

- Favorite sports moment was winning the 99th Rose Bowl as a junior. "The Rose Bowl experience, in general, was one that I'll never forget. Just as you're about to run out of the tunnel with your teammates, these big jets fly over the stadium, sending a chill down your spine. Even during the week leading up, they teach you about the game's history and what it means. Playing in that game, you feel like you're leaving a footprint in history."
- Growing up, was a fan of Stanford football players who went on to play in the NFL. Also followed and currently follows safeties that have made their mark on the league such as Brian Dawkins, Ronnie Lott, Jack Tatum, Sean Taylor, Earl Thomas III and Eric Berry
- In Pac-12 play, Reynolds would match up with WR Brandon Cooks from Oregon State who he claims is the best player he has lined up against
- Hopes to one day meet Muhammad Ali, skydive and visit Africa again
- While at Stanford, would visit local elementary schools as part of his community outreach

BIRDSEED

- Claims the biggest influence on his life is his mother, Martha Ryans, who raised him and his three older siblings. Said Ryans: "Seeing her work so hard all her life for us, it really stuck with me. She worked two or three jobs all the time when I was growing up. That taught me about work ethic and how hard work pays off eventually. I owe her everything."
- Ryans' favorite personal moment in sports growing up was the first time he played linebacker in middle school. Originally a starting center, Ryans subbed in as the team's middle linebacker in the first half of a game because his teammate was forced to sit out due to a suspension. "I made every single tackle in that half," recalls Ryans. "Then when I had to go back to center in the second half, I was thinking I might need to make a position change real soon. Sure enough, the next year that change came."

PERSONAL

- Most underrated attribute about playing linebacker: "You need to have smarts. A lot of people think linebackers are just a bunch of meatheads that like running into people. It's not like that at all. You need to be aware of everything that's going on and be able to communicate that to the rest of the guys on the fly."

- His father was a quarterback at East Los Angeles College and his brothers, Nick (Yale, 1992-94) and Brandon (DePauw, 1997), both played football collegiately
- Played high school football under Bob Johnson, whose son Rob had a nine-year NFL career as a quarterback. Bob is a renowned high school coach and quarterback guru who has worked with signal callers Carson Palmer, Drew Brees, David Carr, A.J. Feeley and Sanchez, among a plethora of others
- Underrated attribute a quarterback must possess to be successful: "Most people think of quarterbacks as pretty boys, but you have to be tough, both mentally and physically. You have to be able to take a hit standing in the pocket. You play when you're hurt and play when you're sore."
- Unique offseason training methods: "Yoga. Hot yoga. It helped a lot with my shoulder and flexibility. It also gives you time to get away from everything."
- Began playing football when he was 7-years-old for the Mission Viejo Cowboys
- Graduated from USC in May 2009 with a degree in communication

CALIFORNIA CONNECTION

Growing up in Southern California, Sanchez was raised in an area considered a hotbed for quarterbacks. One, however, stood out in his eyes: Arizona Cardinals QB and former Trojan Carson Palmer. "I actually was Carson's ball boy when he was in school at Santa Margarita. He was like a god to me. I've watched him through his entire career and we ended up playing him in the first round of the playoffs my rookie year."

- Former Louisville Head Coach Charlie Strong

The Eagles first-round draft choice in 2014, Marcus Smith transformed himself from a dual-threat high school quarterback to the AAC Defensive Player of the Year as a senior linebacker at Louisville. A native of Columbus, GA, the long-armed and athletic Smith garnered USA Today second-team All-America honors in 2013 after amassing 14.5 sacks. Originally recruited to Louisville as a quarterback, Smith made the switch to the defensive side of the ball as a freshman and went on to finish seventh in school history with 24 career sacks.

BIRDSEED

- Volunteers his time to the M2 Foundation, a charity organization that supports the sustainable transformation of individuals and the community through the advocacy of mindful-living. Smith specifically focuses his efforts on single mothers, as his sister is a single mom of three children. Follows in the footsteps of former NFL RB Warrick Dunn who also assists single-parent families through his Warrick Dunn Charities organization
- While attending a T.I. performance in Atlanta, Smith ran into a casting director who initiated an unprompted conversation about movie auditions. After getting some information on the process, Smith inquired about a role in the upcoming film, Barbershop 3. Smith auditioned for the part and ultimately landed it, but later declined the offer so that he could stay in Philly for the weeks leading up to OTAs. Would like to pursue another movie role at some point given his positive experience during the audition period

- Recorded his first-career tackle at SF (9/28)
- Saw his first action as a pro vs. Was. (9/21), appearing on special teams and at inside linebacker

PERSONAL

- Favorite sports moment growing up was throwing a game-winning 65-yard TD at the buzzer on a trick play against Jones County High School
- Chose to attend Louisville because of then-head coach Charlie Strong. After leaving his post at Florida in 2009 as the program's defensive coordinator, Strong made it a point to recruit Smith after accepting the head coaching position at Louisville
- Claims that Redskins T Trent Williams and Cardinals G Jonathan Cooper have been the best players he has lined up against
- As a standout basketball player growing up, was on the same AAU team as Steelers LB Jarvis Jones. In fact, all five starters on the squad went on to play football for Division-I schools

THE RIGHT SWITCH

Since he was five years old, Marcus Smith played one position - quarterback. "I was a dual threat growing up," said Marcus. "I never played anything else." Shortly after going to Louisville, the coaches approached him about switching over to defense. In just the fourth year of his life playing defense, Marcus erupted his senior season as he racked up 14.5 sacks en route to being named the AAC Defensive Player of the Year. "I've always been a team guy, do whatever the team needs me to do. It was the best decision I ever made."

Pro Bowl: 2015

"Just the consummate professional in terms of his approach and what he does, and how hard he works. Probably the best training or practice player I've ever been around in terms of his approach to everything."

- Eagles Head Coach Chip Kelly

One of the most versatile weapons in the NFL, the Eagles acquired the dynamic Darren Sproles in a trade with the New Orleans Saints and signed the back to a two-year extension during the 2013 off-season, keeping him in Philadelphia through 2016. A multi-dimensional threat as a running back, receiver and returner, Sproles is the NFL leader in all-purpose yards since 2007 and leads all NFL running backs in receiving yards and touchdowns during that span. One of the league's premier return men since entering the league as a fourth-round pick of the Chargers in 2005, Sproles has seven career return touchdowns on both punts (five) and kickoffs (two).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Leads the NFL with 15,045 all-purpose yards since 2007 and is second among all active players in the category all-time, trailing only Baltimore's Steve Smith, Sr.
- Ranks eighth in NFL history in combined kick and punt return yards (10,423) and kick return yards (8,311)
- Boasts seven career return TDs (five punts and two kickoffs)
- Ranks 13th in NFL history among running backs with 27 career receiving touchdowns
- One of the NFL's premiere threats catching the ball out of the backfield, leads all NFL RBs since 2007 in receiving yards (3,758) and touchdowns (27) while ranking second in receptions (415)
- Earned second-team AP All-Pro and Pro Bowl honors as a punt returner in 2014 after leading the NFL in punt return average (13.0), punt return yards (506) and tying for the lead in TDs (two)
- Set an NFL postseason record with 15 catches for 118 yards in a NFC Divisional playoff game at SF (1/14)

2014 HIGHLIGHTS

- Garnered AP second-team All-Pro and Pro Bowl honors for the first time in his 11-year NFL career after leading the league in punt return average (13.0) and yardage (506) and tying for the league lead in punt return touchdowns (two)
- Along with Packers QB Aaron Rodgers, was one of only two players to receive at least three conference Player of the Week Awards in 2014 (two NFC Special Teams POW & one NFC Offensive POW)
- Was just the second player to win two Special Teams Player of the Week Awards and an Offensive Player of the Week Award in the same season (DeSean Jackson in 2009)
- Was one of only three running backs to have two 50+ yard catches, along with Green Bay's Eddie Lacy and Atlanta's Antone Smith

- Tallied his sixth rushing touchdown of the year vs. Dal. (12/14), doubling his previous career high of three rushing scores (2009)
- Carried the ball six times for 25 yards and a touchdown, while adding three catches for 14 yards in a win vs. Ten. (11/23)
- Became the third Eagle and first since Brian Westbrook in 2003 to score via rush (8 yards) and punt return (65 yards) in the same game in a win vs. Car. (11/10). With his 65-yard punt return touchdown, Sproles became just the third Eagle to record multiple punt return scores in a season and moved into a tie for fourth among all active players with seven career return TDs. Sproles garnered NFC Special Teams POW honors for his play
- Scampered into the end zone from 15 yards out vs. NYG (10/12) for his third rushing score of the year, tying his career-high in only six games
- Named NFC Special Teams Player of the Week after returning an Andy Lee punt 82 yards for a touchdown at SF (9/28), marking the fourth punt return touchdown in his career and his first since 2011. The 82-yard return was the longest of his career and the fifth-longest in Eagles history
- Named NFC Offensive Player of the Week after setting a career high in receiving yards (152) and yards from scrimmage (178), notching two receptions of 50+ yards and adding a 19-yard rushing touchdown in a win at Ind. (9/15)
- Notched 147 all-purpose yards in his Eagles debut vs. Jax. (9/7), including a 49-yard touchdown run in the third quarter -- the longest run of his career

"I love Tim. Tim's a two-time national champion. Two players of mine have had that same bizarre work ethic and toughness and it's [Texans LB] John Simon and Tim. The players know that it's different. I had very few jerseys hanging in my office, and Tim's is one of them because of his relentless pursuit of excellence and the way he treats people."

-Ohio State Head Coach and former Florida Head Coach Urban Meyer

A former Heisman Trophy winner and two-time BCS National Champion, Tim Tebow signed with the Eagles as a free agent during the 2015 offseason. Tebow most recently spent time with the New England Patriots during the 2013 preseason. Originally a first-round draft choice of the Broncos in 2010, Tebow appeared in 23 games with 14 starts for Denver, leading the team to the AFC Divisional Round of the playoffs in 2011. Following the 2011 season, Tebow was acquired by the New York Jets and went on to appear in 12 games for the team in 2012. One of the most accomplished college football players of all time, Tebow set Southeastern Conference records for total offense (12,232 yards), rushing touchdowns (57) and total touchdowns (145) while earning the Maxwell Award, given to the nation's best player, in both 2007 and 2008. A noted philanthropist and founder of the Tim Tebow Foundation, Tebow spent the 2014 season working as an analyst for ESPN's SEC Network.

BIRDSEED

- In 2010, Tebow launched the Tim Tebow Foundation, whose mission is "to bring faith, hope and love to those needing a brighter day in their darkest hour of need." The Tim Tebow Foundation fulfills this mission every day by making dreams come true for children with life-threatening illnesses, building Timmy's Playrooms in children's hospitals, providing life-changing surgeries to children of the Philippines through the Tebow CURE Hospital, sponsoring Night to Shine (a nationwide prom for people with special needs), providing care for orphans in four countries and adoption aid grants for families who choose to adopt an international child with special needs
- During his collegiate career, Tebow became just the second player in college football history to win the Maxwell Award, given to the nation's best overall player, in consecutive seasons (2007-08), joining former Notre Dame halfback Johnny Lattner (1952-53)

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Has recorded at least one passing touchdown and one rushing touchdown in the same game seven times
- Joined Fran Tarkenton (Minnesota, 1961) as the only two players in NFL history to run and pass for a touchdown in four games during their rookie season

Growing up in a town of Tarry, AR (population 8,115), Cedric Thornton took a long, circuitous route to the NFL. A rookie free agent signing of the Eagles in 2011, he provides a blend of size, strength and toughness to the defensive line. Thornton is one of the main cogs in the Eagles strong front seven and is one of only five players in history to attend Division II Southern Arkansas and play in the NFL. He was a two-year starter with the Muleriders and earned first-team All-America honors as a junior in 2009.

BIRDSEED

- When Thornton first started playing sports, he had aspirations of being a baseball or basketball player, but the two sports didn't really suit his physical mentality. "When I played basketball, I was a little too aggressive and basically fouled out of every game, so I decided football was probably a better fit for me."
- Thornton learned the value of a hard day's work when he used to pick peas by hand from 6am to 6pm for $50 a day. "A lot of people don't realize that type of work still gets done, but where I grew up, that's all there was. I did that for six summers. It was exhausting."
- Says the biggest influence on his career has been his parents. "They always pushed me to be the best player I could be. After games, my dad would always keep it real and help me with what I needed to work and get better at."
- During the 2015 offseason, Thornton went back to his home town of Star City, AR, to serve as principal for a day at Jimmy Brown Elementary School. He delivered 1,000 books to the school and spoke to the children about the importance of reading

- Had 61 tackles and one sack while playing in 55% of the team's snaps on defense
- Tied for 3rd in the NFL with three fumble recoveries behind Houston's J.J. Watt (5) and Indy's D'Qwell Jackson (4)
- Recovered two fumbles vs. StL (10/5), including one of QB Austin Davis in the end zone for his first career TD. In fact, it was his first touchdown of any kind since his senior year of high school in 2005 while playing RB/WR for Star City HS in Arkansas. He returned his other fumble 40 yards to set up another Eagles TD. He became the 6th Eagle ever to recover two fumbles in a game and the first since Quintin Mikell in 2010

"Our tight ends love to block. Being physical is a huge thing for our program. That's how we pride ourselves on offense: hard-nosed, hitting people in the mouth. When we get a chance to get in there and hit people, that's just as much fun for us as catching the ball."

Originally a fifth-round selection of Philadelphia in the 2011 NFL Draft, Julian Vandervelde (pronounced VAN-der-vell-dee) re-signed with the Eagles on 10/14/14 after being waived with an injury settlement by the team on 8/26/14. Vandervelde originally resigned with the Eagles during the 2013 offseason after splitting time between the team's practice squad and active roster in 2012. A four-year letterman at Iowa, Vandervelde earned second-team All-Big Ten honors as a senior in 2010.

BIRDSEED

- Interested in Japanese culture and hopes to one day move to Nagasaki, Japan, and help rebuild the Christian community that was destroyed by an atomic bomb in World War II. It fascinated me and I became obsessed with it. My interest took off from there."
- Earned his degree from Iowa with a double major in English and religious studies and a minor in Japanese. A versatile defensive back out of the University of Florida, Jaylen Watkins was selected by the Eagles in the fourth round of the 2014 NFL Draft. A four-year letterman with the Gators, Watkins appeared in 48 games with 28 starts during his collegiate tenure, recording 133 tackles, three interceptions and 21 passes defended. A native of Cape Coral, FL, Watkins is the brother of 2014 first-round selection Sammy Watkins, with the two pros separated by less than a year in age.

BIRDSEED

- Watkins' younger brother, Sammy, was a first-round draft pick of the Buffalo Bills in the 2014 draft after a stellar career as a receiver at Clemson. Prior to their college games, the two brothers would send each other words of encouragement. Sammy will never leave his room to head to the stadium until he texts Jaylen, "Play today like it's your last game." Jaylen responds with a phrase Sammy has become accustomed to in his three-year collegiate career, "Play hard and be safe."
- Lee County, FL (which houses Cape Coral and Fort Myers) has turned out a plethora of NFL talent, including Deion Sanders, Jevon Kearse and the recently selected Watkins brothers. "It was crazy for our hometown when Sammy and I got selected. We've had a lot of guys get drafted recently, but obviously not two brothers. Fort Myers isn't the biggest town, but it's put together a nice little bit of history on the football field. We had a few other guys selected this year too with Tre Boston going to Carolina and Aaron Lynch heading to San Francisco."
- Considers himself a film junkie and tries to learn as much as he possibly can from game footage. "I just like to watch film. Any kind of film, whether it's watching another team or receivers, other DBs. In college, I used to watch a lot of NFL DBs and try to gain as much knowledge as I could from them. When you watch all of the NFL corners, they're all so different. I like things that all of them do, so I just try to take little things from them and mold them all together. I don't want to model myself after just one guy."

2014 HIGHLIGHTS

- Made his defensive debut in the season finale at NYG (12/28), recording three tackles and one pass defended in a winning effort

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Started 28 of 48 games at Florida (20 at cornerback, two at slot corner and his final six appearances at free safety)
- Recorded 133 tackles (four for a loss) and three interceptions, one of which he returned for a touchdown, during his collegiate tenure. Also finished his career ranked 11th in school history with 21 pass deflections
- Played both right cornerback and safety as a senior in 2013, recording a career-high 52 tackles, two tackles for loss and seven passes defended. Was also the recipient of the Gators' Gene Elleson Community Service Award

- Started 11 games at left cornerback as a junior in 2012, notching 39 tackles, one tackle for loss, three interceptions and 11 passes deflected. Also scored a touchdown on a 26-yard interception return
- Appeared in all 13 games as a sophomore in 2011, starting six contests at left cornerback and two at slot corner, and registered 34 tackles and five pass deflections
- Saw action in 10 games as a freshman in 2010 as a gunner on the punt return unit and finished with eight tackles

INJURY HISTORY

- Was rendered inactive in the 2014 opener vs. Jax. (9/7/14) with a hamstring injury

PERSONAL

- Attended Cape Coral (FL) High School, where he played quarterback, wide receiver and defensive back. As a senior in 2009, he passed for 1,230 yards and 13 touchdowns and rushed for 928 yards with 10 touchdowns, while also racking up 29 receptions for 461 yards and five touchdowns
- In addition to starring on the football field, he also ran track at Cape Coral and advanced to the Class-4A Track Championships in the 4x100 relay

- Earned his degree from Florida in family, youth and community science
- Son of Brandy Green and Samuel Watkins III. Brandy is a second-grade teacher and Samuel is a truck driver
- His brother, Sammy, was selected with the fourth-overall pick in the 2014 NFL Draft by the Buffalo Bills. His cousin, Jeremy Ware, was selected by the Oakland Raiders in the seventh round of the 2010 NFL Draft
- Has a girlfriend, Gerraka Lewis. The two met when Jaylen was playing Pop Warner football and they both attended Cape Coral High School and the University of Florida

Favorite quote: "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." - Philippians 4:13

An athletic young safety, Earl Wolff gained valuable experience in his rookie campaign after being selected by the Eagles in the fifth round in 2013. A vocal and intelligent player, Wolff has Philadelphia roots as his mother, Sharon, was born and raised in North Philly. A first-team All-ACC honoree as a senior at NC State, Wolff rounded out his college career as the program's all-time leader in games played (51) and starts (43), while notching 400 tackles (fifth in school history) and eight forced fumbles (tied for third).

2014 HIGHLIGHTS

- Made his first start of the season at Hou. (11/2), appearing on all 60 defensive snaps and recording two solo tackles

BIRDSEED

- Went unnoticed by college programs until attending a summer football camp at NC State prior to his senior year of high school. His performance at that camp immediately led to an offer from NC State coach Tom O'Brien. "My parents really couldn't afford the $250 it cost to attend that camp, but they somehow made it happen and I'm really fortunate I was able to attend. As soon as he made the offer, my mother said, 'You're going.'"
- One of the biggest influences on Wolff's life has been his mother, Sharon. A member of the National Guard for nearly 30 years, she has always been big on discipline. "She's been the backbone of my life," said Wolff. "Basically, I am where I am now because of her, and it's just a blessing to still have her around. I've never been in any trouble off the field, never had any academic violations or anything like that. I graduated in three and a half years, so I can honestly say she raised me well."
- During the National Anthem, Wolff takes the time to remember his two friends who lost their lives - a military serviceman and his best friend's dad. "I take that opportunity to honor their memories and reminisce on the great times I had with them," said Wolff. "They motivate me to be better every day."

PHILADELPHIA ROOTS

Despite growing up in North Carolina, a significant part of Wolff's immediate family grew up and still resides in Philly. His mother, Sharon, went to the Philadelphia High School for Girls. His grandmother, uncles and cousins still reside in the city.

Recalled Wolff on draft day, "Once I got the phone call, they all jumped on me. It was just exciting. Both of my uncles were actually wearing Eagles hats and t-shirts during draft weekend."

Growing up, Wolff would stay with his grandmother in Philadelphia once a year while his mother went on training missions with the National Guard.

1943 STEAGLES
With the shortage of manpower due to World War II, the Eagles and Steelers merged for the 1943 football season to become the Steagles. The Steagles, who finished their only season 5-4-1, split their home games between Philadelphia's Shibe Park and Pittsburgh's Forbes Field.

WHAT WAS THE PLAYOFF BOWL?

Following the 1961 and 1966 seasons, the Eagles participated in the Playoff Bowl. If case you never heard of the Playoff Bowl, here's the scoop. From 1960-1969, the National Football League took each conference's runner-up and matched them up in a consolation game at the Orange Bowl in Miami. The Eagles, by the way, lost both of their Playoff Bowl appearances (38-10 to Detroit in 1962 and 20-14 to Baltimore in 1967).
